4. ☐ (a) The brief does not contain a concise explanation of the subject matter defined in each of the independent claims involved in the appeal, referring to the specification by page and line number and to the drawings, if any, by reference characters; and/or (b) the brief fails to: (1) identify, for each independent claim involved in the appeal and for each dependent claim argued separately, every means plus function and step plus function under 35 U.S.C. 112, sixth paragraph, and/or (2) set forth the structure, material, or acts described in the specification as corresponding to each claimed function with reference to the specification by page and line number, and to the drawings, if any, by reference characters (37 CFR 41.37(c)(1)(v)).

Continuation of 10. Other (including any explanation in support of the above items): In the arguments section, sub-section E., found on page 16, the brief references the now moot Final Rejection from the Office action mailed June 6, 2007. The outstanding and currently appealed rejection is the Non-final rejection from the Office Action mailed April 9, 2008. The specific issue in question from sub-section E. no longer applies, as examiner has already conceded the point argued, as the outstanding Non-Final rejection mailed April 9, 2008 fully admits that the optical fiber of the prior art fails to teach the distinction of guiding light between wavelength filters. If appellant wishes to argue this particular aspect of the outstanding rejection in a fully compliant manner, appellant needs to argue as to why said distinction would not have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention, as maintained by the examiner in the outstanding rejection. Otherwise, this particular argument will stand dismissed for being irrelevant to the appealable issues of the outstanding rejection.
